Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5, 11-13, 15-20, drawn to a DNA comprising one or more copies of TRT, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.
- II. Claims 6-10, 11, 12, 14, 15, and 21, drawn to a DNA comprising one or more copies of TRT', classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.
- III. Claims 22-51, drawn to a method of effecting Tnp I mediated recombination classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- IV. Claim 52, drawn to a method of making a circular DNA vaccine, classified in class 435, subclass 25.3.

Claims 11, 12, and 15 are generic to Groups I and II. Claims 11, 12, and 15 will be examined limited to the invention elected.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are different nucleic acid sequences that have different nucleotide sequences where these differences in sequence provide for different biological activities, for example.

Inventions III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are different methods that require different method steps where these different method steps result in different ends, for example.

Inventions (I and II) and (III and IV) are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the nucleic acids of I and II could be used in a different methods than those of III or IV such as in a hybridization assay, for example.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
